

SLAA Spring Picnic & Camp-Out

Blanco State Park

April 27 – 28, 2019

Austin & San Antonio Intergroups

Blanco State Park is a 104.6-acre park, along a mile of the Blanco River, on the southern edge of the serene little town of Blanco, Texas. It is approximately 40 miles from Austin and 50 miles from San Antonio. The park features nature trails, horseshoes, sand volleyball, and a man-made lake that is great for swimming, canoeing, and fishing. Restrooms, hot showers & camp store are available. The town of Blanco also offers quaint cafes and shops as well as basic conveniences. This is not roughing it!

The Picnic: There is no cost for the picnic or the campfire meeting but each person who enters the park must pay a $5 entrance fee at the front gate. Come for the day and relax and bring as much food as you want to eat or share for the pot-luck picnic dinner. Parking in the day-use areas is free for day visitors.

The Camp-Out: We have reserved two cabins at sites 41 and 42 that are located next to the river. You can stay in one of the cabins or bring a tent but each site is limited to 8 people. The camping fee is $12.50 which covers the cost of the campsite, s'mores and hot chocolate fellowship after the meeting, and the group breakfast on Sunday morning. Please pay your $12.50 camping fee at the EventBrite page below. The first four vehicles to arrive will not pay for parking but any vehicles that enter after that will be charged an extra fee for over-flow parking at the front gate.
